“ Jimmy liked doing push-ups in his younger days . And he wanted to challenge us younger guys when we were all together. I always knew better than to try taking him on. He was the nicest tough guy . Great wit and humor. Will be missed by all. Al Peterson

“ Jimmy Dorsey was a great husband, father, and in my opinion the best father-in-law any son could ask for. He was hard-working, loyal, honorable, and was blessed with a superb sense of humor. Many who knew him will know the "jimmy-isms" and the quick wit for which he was known.

He was a proud Navy Veteran- having served from 1959-1963 and served proudly on the USS Vulcan in various ports. He appreciated the code of ethics he learned from his childhood and the military, and carried those values his entire life.

He would do anything for anyone (if he respected you) and was always the first to make people laugh.

Most of all, I appreciate the love and dedication he showed his wife Paula and his two daughters, Shannon and Sandi.

I will miss him very much- but he will be with me in my heart forever.

“ I think one of nicest things Sandy and the family did was to get Jimmys truck running for him to ride in and surprise him. He loved that truck and had many a conversation with him about it. I see cruising in heaven in a new 60s GMC truck and him saying Mighty Fine. Al peterson

“ In jimmys younger days he did push ups and I would joke with him because he always wanted to challenge us young guys to a push up contest. I never did because I knew he kick my butt. He was the nicest tough guy I ever knew and will be missed. Al Peterson
