“ UM I was being sarcastic. How could acgeeins possibly explain that in advance truthfully and still acquire babies for their waiting customer families? I doubt they could. So they sugar coat everything hence my sarcasm. I dont for a second think my daughter is over the moon with joy at the death of my dad. I do believe adoption has made her unable to communicate with me even at the most basic human level as in my sincere condolences on the loss of your dad . Strangers on the internet offered that much.
