“ We are so sorry to hear of Valerie's passing. She and Raymond we were some of mama and daddy's best friends. Mama loved to listen to Saturday Night Gold and always knew Valerie would request a song for her.

“ Ms. Valerie was my friend and neighbor. She and Raymond always found ways to express kindness to me and especially to my children. After Raymond passed, Valerie was surrounded by friends and family, but occasionally she'd call for me to help change a light bulb or the batteries in her smoke detector. It wasn't any trouble to me, but on more than one occasion she baked me a cake or pie to repay the favor. Her living room is an Elvis shrine, and there was a couple of times when Raymond was still alive, I'd take my guitar over there, and she would sing along to the Elvis tunes. She loved flowers, and every spring, she would compliment my daffodils. Whenever she cooked for her family at the holidays, she would always save me a plate. Rest in peace, Ms. Val.
